Louisville, KY – The Standard Group (TSG), a preferred independent designer and manufacturer of innovative paperboard packaging and high graphic folding cartons for the dry food, prepared food and frozen food industries, announces the continual recognition of leadership in food safety packaging. Through a recent recertification audit, the company has fulfilled the requirements of the American Institute of Baking (AIB) International’s Consolidated Standards for Food Contact Packaging Manufacturing Facilities. For the past 8-years, TSG has been consistently recognized under these requirements with superior level scores & achievement.

AIB has been the industry leader in ensuring that quality standards are maintained by companies involved in the development and ongoing maintenance of food safety programs throughout the world. AIB’s comprehensive audit & inspection process focuses on GMP and Global Food Safety initiatives. These inspections are based on a widely-recognized set of standards that define requirements for a superior food safety program, and are followed by the world’s largest and most influential food manufacturers. The comprehensive inspections evaluate Operational Methods & Personnel Practices; Maintenance for Food Safety; Cleaning Practices; Integrated Pest Management; and Adequacy of Prerequisite & Food Safety Programs.

“We continue to be dedicated to serving our customers with the highest commitment to packaging quality and in following critical food safety initiatives,” states Tony Petrelli, Chief Operating Officer of The Standard Group, “By adhering to these strict standards, we also set the platform for housekeeping and overall manufacturing safety that promotes pride within each and every employee of our company.”
